

Volunteer Opportunities at Penn Dixie

TRAINING SESSION: Saturday, March 10, 2012
8:30 am in Gateway Office Auditorium

The Hamburg Natural History Society, Inc. (HNHS), a non-profit educational organization providing programming in the natural sciences, is currently recruiting enthusiastic and responsible individuals to help support its educational programs at the Penn Dixie Paleontological and Outdoor Education Center in Hamburg. This could be your perfect opportunity if you...

- Want to make a difference in your community.
- Are looking for a hands-on volunteer organization.
- Have three or four hours available each month.
- Need to fulfill community service hours.
- Are seeking teaching or mentoring opportunities.

Penn Dixie has a variety of programs and projects that succeed through the volunteer efforts of individuals, groups, students, scouts, seniors and retirees. We're certain at least one is right for you!

Reserve a spot in our training session:
(716) 627-4560.

You can make a difference!
